

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

This directive to large number of t.v. stations, ordering them to present what is clearly a one-sided political documentary, is against the public interest.